

Jordana Largy

Jordana Largy is an extremely busy and acclaimed actor in Vancouver's Film and Television scene, with over 20 lead or Supporting film and television appearances to her credit.

Ms. Largy has just recently finished shooting a feature film entitled "That Burning Feeling", along side Tyler Labine and John Cho. Her long list of credits also include Major feature films such as "Transparency" & "Scooby Doo - The Mystery Begins" to indie features like, "Candyland" and "Darklands".

On the television side, Ms. Largy has been a Guest/CO Star on several major studio shows including, "Motive", "Fringe", "Flashpoint", "Psych", and "Sanctuary". She has also starred in a recurring role in the second season of an indie series called, "Blackstone".

Ms. Largy has been a favourite in several made for TV movies including, "Joey Dakota", "The Selection", "Good Morning Killer" and "A Bride for Christmas".

Ms. Largy has trained extensively under Kate Twa and Dr. Iris MacGregor Bannerman, first at Lyric and now at Railtown Actors Studio in Vancouver.

